

PROPOSAL · OCTOBER 7, 2026

Let's make something meaningful for

LANDFORCE.

Brand Development + Website Redesign

PREPARED FOR

Elijah Johnson, Communications Manager, Landforce

PREPARED BY

Ally Stoltz LaBriola + Brad LaBriola, Meaningful Marketing House

AT A GLANCE

The quick version

$40,000

Brand + website, all in

Mar 31

New site launches in 2027

5 months

Kickoff in November 2026

Custom

A new site off WordPress your team enjoys using

WHAT'S INSIDE

01

The challenge

02

The big idea

03

The plan

04

Timeline + team

05

Our work

06

Investment

HELLO!

We're Ally + Brad

Our goal with every nonprofit is simple:
make your life easier, not harder.

We do the heavy lifting and make the process feel seamless for your team, your stakeholders and everyone in between. We're scrappy, we're frugal, and we treat your budget like it's our own money.

We split the year between Downingtown, PA and San Clemente, CA, with a 3-year-old and a 6-year-old, so we know a thing or two about multitasking.

We'd be honored to do this work with you.

The challenge is clarity

One mission, three lines of work, very different audiences. Crew Members, lumber buyers, municipal clients and donors should each know fast where they belong.

- | | | |
|---|--|--|
| 1 | Workforce Development is the thread | Not a silo. Stewardship and RWP are where people build skills and careers. |
| 2 | RWP needs to sell like a business | A real customer experience for buying wood, still tied to the mission. |
| 3 | Organize by what people want | Work with us. Hire environmental services. Buy wood. Support Landforce. |
| 4 | Impact everywhere | Not tucked away on a single impact page. |
| 5 | Free your staff from WordPress | Say what you want to say, not just what the page builder allows. |

WHERE OUR HEAD IS AT

Workforce development is the engine

Land stewardship and responsible wood production are where the training, jobs and environmental impact happen.

THE VOICE

Homeboy Industries

One workforce mission, many businesses, each with its own audience.

THE STRUCTURE

Greyston Bakery

A real business where buyers, job seekers and supporters each find their path.

THE LOOK

Patagonia

Mission plus real products, on a beautiful site.

THE FEEL

Parks Project

Vibe-wise, a bit of a DNA match for Landforce.

The key insight: let people enter through what they need, not through your org chart. And the work itself (crews, landscapes, lumber, tools, hands) is so visual, it should be the brand.

The plan, step by step

01

Listening first

Audits, workshop, interviews, Crew Member session + survey

02

Brand architecture

One system for three lines of work, tested with audiences

03

Brand toolkit

Positioning, messaging, identity, voice + brand guide

04

Applications

Up to 6 priority pieces + social templates

05

Website strategy

Sitemap, journeys, tested wireframes, 20 pages written

06

Photography

Two half-day shoots, 60–80 edited images

07

Custom website

Staff dashboards, Salesforce forms, RWP catalog

08

Testing + launch

Every device, accessible, secure, staff trained

Our focus group questions

A few we'll ask in every session. Fun to answer, and they tell us a lot.

1

If Landforce were a car, what would it be, and why?

2

If Landforce were a tool in the shed, which one would it be?

3

If Landforce walked into a party, what would people say on the drive home?

4

What's one word you'd never want used to describe Landforce?

5

Finish this: "Landforce is the only organization that..."

Live by March 31

Clear check-ins at every step. Elijah's time: about 3–4 hours a week.

When you hire us, you get us

Ally Stoltz LaBriola

PROJECT LEAD · STRATEGY, BRAND + WEB

Your day-to-day contact from kickoff to launch. Ally runs the timeline, leads strategy and content, and designs and builds the site herself. 15+ years in mission-driven marketing.

Brad LaBriola

CREATIVE DIRECTOR · STORYTELLING

Leads focus groups and interviews so the brand is built on what people actually say. A filmmaker with an MFA from UCLA who shapes the visual direction and photography.

How approvals work: Elijah gathers feedback, and the CEO and board committee sign off at each step. Any change to scope, schedule or cost is agreed in writing first. Our only subcontractor is a Pittsburgh-area photographer.

We've done this before

THE CLOSEST MATCH

BaldrigeAlliance.org

Off WordPress to a custom web app with a member map, portal, AI assistant and staff dashboards.

Why it matters: Exactly what we're proposing.

CLARIFYING A COMPLEX ORGANIZATION

Adventure International

Decades of brands untangled into one clear story, with repeatable page templates built from conversations.

Why it matters: Distinct offerings, one organization.

Same challenges, different industries

A BUSINESS THAT FUNDS A MISSION

TheSigmundProject.org

Brand built from scratch, grown to 10,000+ members. Our RFP Hub is on track for $50,000 this year.

Why it matters: Like RWP, it funds the mission.

ONE STORY, EVERY CHANNEL

Inspire Life Skills Training

One 20th-anniversary story across the website, a sold-out gala, products, email, social and print.

Why it matters: People-first stories, everywhere.

One clear number

$40,000

New brand + core website, start to finish.
Hosting runs about $50–75 a month, billed directly to Landforce with no markup.

PAYMENT SCHEDULE

Where the budget goes

What's in, what's not, what's next

INCLUDED

- Discovery + full brand identity
- 6 brand pieces + social templates
- 20 pages written for you
- Photography ($2,000 allowance)
- Custom site, dashboards + forms
- RWP catalog from Salesforce
- Testing, training + 30-day warranty

NOT INCLUDED

- Printing + fabrication
- Legal trademark clearance
- Video
- Ongoing social or site support
- Monthly hosting fees

FUTURE PHASES

- Inventory syncing: $3.5–7.5k
- RWP ecommerce: $4–8k
- Impact dashboard: $2.5–5k
- Carbon display: $2–4k
- Extra support: $125/hr

Like WordPress, but easier

A custom site with the code in a GitHub account Landforce owns. No lock-in: your staff run everything through simple dashboards we build.

You own it all

Domain, code, content, data and design files

Easy editing

Pages, stories, RWP products + impact stats

Salesforce + Mailchimp

Kept, with every form rebuilt and connected

Accessible

Built to WCAG 2.2 AA standards

Found on Google

Redirects, local SEO + analytics

A trained team

Live training for 4 editors + guides

Let's make something

MEANINGFUL.

Ally + Brad

Meaningful Marketing House

ally@meaningfulmarketinghouse.com · meaningfulmarketinghouse.com